A woman somewhere out in Nebraska wrote to Mrs Roosevelt asking for a handkerchief for a bazar in aid of a church building fund. In the course of the letter she wrote that she and her husband were Democrats, but that "our president, God bless him, is making it very difficult for us to know where we are at." The president took it upon himself to answer the letter for Mrs Roosevelt, and toward the close of his epistle, which was a good one and worthy of preservation, he wrote: "It is of mighty small importance whether we are Republicans or Democrats, but it is of very real importance that we should be good Americans and do our duty in straight and decent fashion." This sentence is one worthy of being embalmed in the memory, for it contains the whole duty of all of us, whatever our shade of partisan politics. If the admonition contained in his words were heeded by the people at large there would not be so many "investigations" and so many exposures that would wound the sensibilities of every honest and decent citizen. The neglect to do this is what is creating the necessity for the government to take so prominent a part in functions which might better be left with the individual citizen or at best to the separate state. Theodore Roosevelt has said and written many good things, but there are but few of them which should sink deeper into the heart than the sentence quoted above.

Profanity is undoubtedly on the decline in this country. Big oaths used to be common in nearly all classes of society. But now swearing, as it is called, is out of favor, not so much perhaps because it is profanity, as because it is considered vulgar. There has, however, certainly been a great breakdown in the observance of Sunday, both as a day of worship and a day of rest. It has become now very largely a day of play, and that multitudes may be able to amuse themselves, it is necessary that tens of thousands of others would work. Formerly no play house was opened on Sunday evening in the city of New York. Now theatrical performances under the thin veil of "sacred concerts" are given in many of the theatres. It is yet to be seen what will be the economic and moral results of this growing departure from Sunday observance.

There is certain comfort in religion not found elsewhere. The Atlanta Constitution tells of a man in jail who sent a letter asking for some means of relief. "John, old feller, this is to let you know that your uncle is in jail, an' wants you to send him his fiddle, his slippers, a jug of the kind o' corn liker he likes best, an' a hymn book with the hymns he knows in it, so's he won't lose his religion in these ungodly surroundings." It was a combination for saving a man's soul that certainly was unique if not convincing.

One of King Edward's ancestors was a bricklayer. He was one who shed some luster upon the dynasty, for bricklaying is more honorable than pipe laying for unearned salaries to the extent of millions, as practiced in late days.

The St. Louis man who killed himself because he caught only three small fish after an all-day effort, was not a real fisherman. A real fisherman, a true follower of Walton, doesn't expect to catch fish; in fact, he doesn't go after fish.

A Rochester N. Y., minister bought a glass of beer in a saloon after legal hours and carried it into his pulpit the next day as an object lesson. The number of glasses the congregation carried under their belts is not given.

The Chicago professor who has wagered $25,000 that he can go for a whole year without telling a lie, had better be careful how he talks to his children of the way he did when he was a boy.

One hundred woman school teachers of Cleveland have stopped teaching for the care of wifehood. Their superintendent says they will make the best of wives. There is no doubt of it.

Three members of an Evansville family have suffered broken legs with in the last few days. The family must like the poem of Tennyson that begins: "Break, break, break."

A Boston parson says that "this country needs a king." We have seen the time we "needed a King" a blawked sight worse than this country needs one.

It is true that reasonably pure foods are necessarily sold at light weight. If so the case is reduced to this, that the consumer is caught going and coming.

The average piano knows only rag-time or the classics. There is a wealth of music in between these extremes, but piano players don't seem to realize it.

The family of Wm Christopher wish to thank their friends for the kindness extended them in their recent trouble.

Mrs Eliza Ballard, of Bryantsville, and Mrs Josh Dunn, of New Mexico, spent Wednesday with Mrs Mary Spillman.

Mrs J B Ruble entertained at dinner last Wednesday, Misses Clara Bennett, Alta Boner, Levie Dunn, Eliza Ison, of Bryantsville.

Mr and Mrs Bolton, of Richmond, have been with relatives here. Mrs Bolton was Miss Maggie Lane, well here. She was quietly married last week at her home in Richmond to Mr Bolton of that city.

Mr Chas Chatham, manager of the East Tenn., Telephone Co., at Harrodsburg, was the guest of Mr Jas Spillman last week. He says they will put in exchange at Burgin and that this little hamlet will soon have telephone connection.

Again the angel of death has visited our midst and claimed for his own Levie Shearer aged thirteen. Funeral services at Brown's Chapel Monday afternoon conducted by Dr Jolly, of Nicholasville. Interment at Mt Lebanon. Levie was a faithful Sunday School pupil and a consistent member of the Methodist church. She was ready for the summer.

BYRANTSVILLE

Dr Elliott and wife spent Sunday at North Middletown.

Mrs W M Gulley, of Lexington has been visiting Mrs Ike Dunn.

Mr T E Adams, of Sharpsburg, has been spending a few days here.

Messrs Cleveland Rose and Jess Perkins spent last week at Torrent.

where you will find a splendid table, clean beds and courteous treatment.

Don't be afraid of getting wet at the Lancaster fair. The seats have been covered with a first class roof, and there is all protection from rain and sun.

Why not clean up your front yard, paint your house, use some whitewash and have your premises attractive?
There will be many visitors here next week.

This office has received an order for a very large supply of printing for the new bank. This spirit of patronizing home industries is commendable, indeed.

The alleys in Lancaster were never in a filthier condition. While the chambers "has its hand in" why not give them a little exercise in removing the disease breeding trash scattered over the town?

Appointed City Clerk.

Mr Charles West has been appointed city clerk, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Louis L. Burdette. Mr West is in every way fitted for the place and will make a good official.

The Council should keep the chemical engine charged and ready for immediate use. In case of accident to the water works, it would save trouble and hard work and great loss to some unfortunate citizen who is not insured.

This office has been heels over head in job work for the last six weeks, and all hands and the cook have been working like trojans. We are prepared for all comers and can wait upon our customers promptly. Give us your work and let us prove this claim.

Special Train to Fair.

The L & N will run a special train from Paris each day of the Lancaster Fair, and people from that, and intermediate stations can spend the entire day here and enjoy the fair. Rate one fare, plus 25cts, for the round trip.

Tailor Shop Moved.

Davis & Son have moved their tailor shop to the room just below entrance to The Record office, Danville street, where they are conveniently located to do the best work possible. If you want the very best, honest-made work, go to them, they make a specialty of repairing and guarantee satisfaction.

A Good Cause.

The Kentucky Issue, a temperance paper published in Louisville, gives a free trip to Niagara Falls and other places to every one who secures 100 subscriptions. Miss Sallie Adams has 40 names and wants to get the balance in a few days. The paper is ably edited, on a live issue, and only costs $1.00 a year. Her friends will get value received and help a worthy young lady, by subscribing for the paper.

Mayor Woods Here.

Hon Clarence E Woods, Mayor of Richmond, was here Saturday, the guest of the editor of The Record.
Mayor Woods, who, by the way, is one of the biggest-hearted gentlemen in the world, has done valiant work for his town, and has brought about reforms which are of inestimable value to the taxpayers. His work has attracted the attention of the people all over the state, and many officials have followed into his footsteps. He was the first official in the state to slap "the lid" on Sunday saloons and many other violations of the law. Long live noble Clarence!

District Committeeman.

Since the Democratic committee, for the 8th congressional district, failed to elect a man to fill the place held by Hon R W Miller on the State Central Committee, at Nicholasville last Friday, the many friends of Hon R H Tomlinson claim that he would be the man to settle all differences, and that he would fill the place with credit to himself and honor to the district.

He is one of the best workers and organizers in the district, honest and capable, always on the firing line making speeches and using his money for his party. He has held many high places of public trust, and his friends claim that conditions are such as to make him the most available man for the place.

The Record will be greatly obliged if those having visitors will send their names to the office. We want the names of all visitors, and never fail to print every one we get. It is impossible to obtain them all unless we have some help, so please favor us by sending in the names.

For Mayor.

The Record is authorized to announce Mr Alex Beazley as a candidate for mayor of Lancaster, election to be held in November. Mr Beazley has served on the city council and has experience in managing the city's affairs.
He is a good citizen and will receive the support of his many friends.

Worth Any Old Price.

A neighboring county man took his wife to a physician. The doctor put a thermometer in the woman's mouth and after two or three minutes, just as the doctor was about to remove the instrument, the man, who was not used to such a prolonged silence on the part of his wife said, "Doctor, what'll you take for that thing?"

Attention, Democrats.

A mass meeting will be held at the court house in Lancaster Monday the 23rd, court day, for the purpose of endorsing the official career and candidacy of Hon Jas B McCreary for United State Senator. Meeting called to order at 2 o'clock, p.m.
W G Gooch, Chm. Democratic County Committee.

Earlier Next Week.

In order that "all hands and the cook" may enjoy the Fair, The Record will be printed and mailed to subscribers on next Wednesday morning. Our correspondents will confer a favor by mailing their communications Monday. As every other business house in Lancaster will give its employees this vacation, we will be no exception to the rule.

Best Band In The Country.

Everyone, with a heart in his body, loves good music. This will be furnished at the Lancaster fair next week.
Smittie's band of twenty men play all day, beside a concert on Public Square each morning at nine o'clock. The stand at the fair grounds has been made larger, and about twelve feet from the ground, so the music will be heard distinctly. Its worth the price of admission to fair just to hear this famous Cincinnati organization play.

A Wise Selection.

At a meeting of the directors of the Garrard Bank & Trust Co., Mr J W Elmore was elected cashier of the new institution, and has accepted the place. Mr Elmore is a man of splendid ability, being possessed of fine judgement and far seeing in business matters. He has been engaged in business in Lancaster for a number of years, and by honest dealing and courteous treatment to all made many warm friends. He is public-spirited and always ready to give his time and means toward any move for the betterment of his town. The Record congratulates the directors upon their selection.

A "Dry" Town.

The old assertion that the local option law cannot be enforced has certainly been disproved right here in Lancaster, and the success lies entirely with the appointment of police officers who are absolutely fearless and determined to enforce the law. The temptation to sell whisky in a local option town is very great, as the "tiger" has no license to pay, no high rent, no barkeepers, no free lunch, and his receipts are consequently almost clear profit, as the brand of whisky sold is of cheapest, and meanest, it is possible to obtain. The Lancaster police men watch every move made by suspicious characters, so it doesn't take much time to locate an offender. The Record is thoroughly convinced that it is absolutely impossible to buy a drop of whisky or beer in Lancaster to day, and the stamping out of the traffic is due entirely to the appointment of men who will first obey the law themselves, and then enforce the law.

Crab Orchard Springs.

It was the writer's pleasure to spend Sunday at Crab Orchard Springs, and the many improvements made, the excellent fare and delightful crowd the more fully convinced us of the fact that the resort is the best place in this section of the country to go for rest, recreation and quiet, substantial benefits. The grounds and buildings have been thoroughly overhauled and each room is as neat and clean as can be found in any hotel. It cannot be disputed that the waters are the best and most beneficial to be found anywhere. If you are run down, need a rest and change, The Record says, unhesitatingly, go to Crab Orchard Springs. An orchestra of five instruments discoursed sweet music during the day, and for the dancing at night.
Capt and Mrs Willis are untiring in their efforts to entertain the guests, and certainly succeed in the undertaking.

Cards of Thanks.

To each and every one of my friends who so kindly rendered assistance in my race, I extend my heartfelt thanks, hoping the time will come when I may be able to return the favor. It is unnecessary for me to say I am highly grateful for my success. The battle in our district was spirited from the beginning, but I always felt confident I would win the trip. I realized I was working under many disadvantages, but it only caused me to be more determined to win. If it had not been for the loyal support of my dear friends it would have been impossible for me to have been a winner. Thanking you again, I am yours sincerely, Mary E Lear,

Banks Closed.

On account of the fair, both banks will close at 12 o'clock, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. In order to accommodate the public, they will open one hour earlier on each of these days.

They Are Going to Work.

Since war was made on Battle Row and the negroes given to understand that they could not live by running blind tigers, selling cocaine and lounging around, it is little trouble to hire a cook, or in fact, get help of any kind.
One housekeeper told us he had three women apply for work at his house in as many days. We also learn that farm help is easier to secure, and negro men, who have heretofore hung about town can be seen in the harvest field or plowing. There's no use talking, enforcement of the law is bound to result in good. Keep it up.

Kentucky Reunion in Decatur, Ills.

The 4th was celebrated by a large majority of our population at different places and in various ways, yet it has never been our happy lot to mingle with a more pleasant crowd than gathered by appointment at Fairview Park in Decatur, Ills, for the purpose of having a reunion of all the families who have moved to this state from Kentucky. Some were present who had been here only a short time and others who had been here for a number of years. The venerable Layton family claims the second of being from the State 22 years but having visited the native State several times since moving here. Each family being yet imbued with hospitality, so characteristic of our glorious mother State, brought well filled baskets of delicious eatables. About 75 persons partook of the bountiful repast, and spent the afternoon in pleasantly rehashing bygone days. All departed feeling that this would never cease to be a pleasant memory so long as time lasts, and wishing many returns of the happy event. A Kentuckian.

Anti-Saloon League.

The Kentucky Anti Saloon League has issued an address, in which it declares its intention to take a hand in the selection of state officials and members of the Legislature at the next election. It serves notice upon the people of all parts of the State that the saloon interests of the Commonwealth are organizing for the campaign at hand, and says that it will inquire of each candidate of all parties what he will do if elected in the matter of the temperance interests of the state. It is estimated, in the address that at least twenty five more counties will soon be free from saloons under the operation of the county unit law, and says the next General Assembly will be asked to so amend the law as to make the county unit effective over the entire State, as was contemplated in the bill before the last Assembly, which bill was a sensible move to exclude from its provisions cities having 3,000 population.
It adds that the league will most probably ask of the next assembly the submission to the people of an amendment to the Constitution of the State which will clear up any fancied obscurity as to the meaning of the sixty-first section, relating to county unit elections. It is a fact not generally known, that of Kentucky's 119 counties, 97 have prohibited the sale of liquor.

Program For Press Boys.

Messrs Clarence E Woods, W Vernon Richardson and Louis Landram, committee on entertainment for the Kentucky Press Association at its meeting at Grayson Springs this summer met at Danville Friday and put forth their best efforts to arrange a program which will keep the interest at a fever heat during the week's stay at that resort. A general reception, with the officers and their wives in the recepting line, will be held the first night, while balls, a german, athletic contests, etc., will consume each afternoon and evening. The morning sessions are devoted to business, and an other committee has prepared a most excellent program for these. There will be a progressive euchre for the ladies, and other contest for their entertainment. The committee decided to purchase exceptionally handsome prizes for the euchre and other contests.
Messrs Woods and Landram insisted that Mr Richardson lead the german, and after much persuasion he consented. He did this stunt so gracefully at Crab Orchard last summer that it was deemed wise to force him into service again. The Eighth District Press League will be given one entire afternoon, when the members thereof will entertain the Press Association.
The program for this will not be given out, but our brother editors may rest assured that there will be "something doing" and "doing" fast and furious when they pull the late string at "8th Dist" headquarters. The editors will leave Louisville, on a special train, for Gayson Springs July 23rd.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels. For sale by R E McRoberts the reliable druggist at Lancaster.

Remember, you will save money by buying family dinner tickets before the Fair. Good dinner. Every accommodation. ZIMMER'S

Record Editor Visits Danville.

The editor of the Record spent Friday in Danville, and is obliged to tell the truth, but not the whole truth, about that place, though it may hurt some folk's feeling to do so.

Danville is the cleanest kept city in the Blue Grass; her streets the best, except along those of Paris; and her conveniences for living there are unexcelled. Her water works, electric light, gas, laundry, ice plant, free mail delivery, and fire department, supply all that man can ask from these modern features of municipal equipment.

But above all these Danville has a perfect sewerage system, radiating throughout the city and disposing of the death dealing filth that most other Kentucky towns suffer to decay in their midst. Danville has over three millions of taxable wealth, but no saloons like Richmond from which the latter gets $11,000 annual license but which cost in youthful lives and police salaries a sum thereto. Mayor Woolfolk leaves his town and labors for it almost as hard as Clarence Woods does Richmond. And saying this we give thanks for the city whose officers have an eye and a heart single to the best interests of their constituency, wholly regardless of self or self preferment.

Danville has her finances so well managed that there is no lurking suspicion of shady deals and extravagant expenditures. Of her colleges and schools, her churches, infirmaries, asylums, new depot, new Government Building, and mercantile establishments, we shall not speak—they speak eloquently enough for themselves.

The present lesson from Danville to other Kentucky towns is her ownership and control of her water works and sewerage—the veins and arteries of the city's very existence, making the city pre-eminent in this one respect among her slower-moving sisters of this old Commonwealth.

Another lesson to drawn from Danville is that to stay away and "knock on" her is to reveal the deusest ignorance and the most stupid self satisfaction upon our part. While others revile and ridicule her, Danville goes right along getting the good things that make life worth the while and making her citizens a prosperous, happy and a contented people.

Mr Sam B Harris, of Louisville, is here for a brief vacation and to visit his parents. Mr Harris holds a high position with one of the largest firms in Louisville, with whom he has been since leaving this, his old home town. It would be a hard matter to find a boy more good, old fashioned "boss" sense than he possesses, and we know a bigger hearted fellow never lived. Although successful in laying by a good wad of this world's goods and permanently establishing himself in business, Sam never forgets his old friends out here in the woods, and always glad to come "Home." In plainer words, success has not made a demophil of him.

A Tragic Finish.
A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Mo., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at R E McRoberts drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottle free. ml

Saved His Comrade's Life.
"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera inebria and was in a critical condition," says Mr J E Houghland, of Eldon, Iowa. "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." R E McRoberts, The reliable druggist at Lancaster. 1m

SENSATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Woman Will be Shot Out of a Cannon into Mid-Air From a Balloon at the Great Danville Fair.

A woman will be placed in the mouth of a giant cannon heavily charged with blasting powder; the cannon will be carried hundreds of feet into the air by an immense balloon and discharged at the cloud line. This female freak of the human family will be whirled through mid air for several miles, when she will land upon terrestrial firmness by means of a parachute that will be placed in the cannon with her.

This exhibition, startling and impossible as it may seem, will positively take place at 2 o'clock on the second day of the great Danville fair.

Secretary Bright has just completed arrangements at a heavy expense to have this sensational metropolitan attraction come to Danville and thrill the multitudes, which will gather from the surrounding country upon the foregoing date.

The woman aeronaut will be loaded into the cannon in plain view of the spectators, the ascension will be made from the fair grounds and when at the proper distance above the earth the cannon will be discharged in the direction of Perryville. As soon as the discharge has been made, a great crowd of the curious aside from officers of the fair will start out to bring the woman to town. The discharge will be at a point where it can be easily witnessed by all of Danville and a large portion of Boyle county.

Besides this big exposition there will be a balloon ascension from the fair grounds each day at 2 o'clock, which alone will attract great crowds. Other new and startling attractions will be announced later. Remember the dates, August 1, 2 and 3. 3t
